Options that dress up a shower can include anything that comes to the mind of the homeowner. Some possibilities include dome lights; mood lighting creates instant ambiance in a shower. Changing the bulb or filtering lens can provide a color of choice for any occasion. Another consideration is power shower head. Adjustable spray nozzles can transform a shower from the massage of a pulse spray to the gentle cascade of a fine mist.

About the Cover:

This exquisite dining room stands out as one of the key features located at this 4200 square foot private residence. It is of contemporary design in a right dark wood finish.

Anna Aycock

is changing the direction of Brentwood Interior Design!

With backgrounds rich in both Design, Interior Arrangement and Art, Anna has positioned herself to offer her clients the best of all worlds. Her philosophy is that proper placement and attention to Art detail is the key to creating a beautiful living environment. Her design career began as an artist and faux painting specialist. In the year 2000 Anna became a fulltime designer and earned the credentials of an ASID Allied member. Her ultimate goal is to reflect each client's personal style. She begins with the individuality and tastes of each client, and then adds in Anna Aycock's imagination and use of formulas, perfected thru the years, to come up with just the right recipe for success.

Conceptual Design Development and Project Management (working hand in hand with your Architect and/or Builder) are only two of the Design Solutions Services offered by her. Whether you're local, out of state or an International client, satisfaction is Anna Aycocks highest priority.

Hiring A Designer

Should Not Be A Game Of Roulette . . . !

by Anna Aycock

Many consumers are somewhat intimidated by the thought of hiring an interior designer. They worry they'll lose control of the design, or the budget, and that the finished room may not be to their liking. Hiring an interior design professional can often be compared to interviewing for a new relative. This new relative is going to get to know you and your family intimately. Our studio, acting as your design professional, I will learn about your lifestyle, your habits, your priorities, your entertaining, your daily schedule, your idiosyncracies, and your private life. We will create a relationship of mutual trust.

The success of this effort is as much dependent upon you, the client, as it is on me and my staff.

Most clients don't like to discuss their budgets, but you really have to be comfortable with talking about this with your design professional in order to get started. Anna Aycock can give you accurate estimates, but these are only as good as the information you provide. This is an investment in your comfort and lifestyle and has a significant return over time. Doing research on the web should help calm your fears. There you'll find many valuable resources to help you get comfortable with the whole idea of engaging a designer, and many more that will give you tips on how to find and work with a design professional. Designs done well can improve your health, deepen your relationships, nurture your career, transform your image, and provide time for passionate past times and pursuits. When done right, furnishings, rugs, artwork, accessories and even lighting become investments, not costs. These purchases can be re-arranged room by room and will move with you to your next home.

There are many guidelines to make your project run smoother. Whether you are working with a designer, contractor, builder or any other type consultant. Anna will help you establish those guidelines. Do Your Homework. Your designer won't be able to create the perfect room for you unless you're able to communicate just what you want.

“You Never Get A
Second Chance To Make A First Impression!”

Redecorating, Renovating or beginning a large scale Design project from the ground up can be daunting! Select your Interior Designer at the same time you select your Architect and Builder. Anna Aycock provides project management from conceptual design straight through to installation! My portfolio includes multi-million dollar residences, show houses and commercial projects.

I believe in the “team approach” which means if you don’t already have an architect or licensed contractor for us to work with on your project we have access to some of the very best! “Custom design” also covers everything from furniture built to actually fit the size of your rooms, to the finest in window treatments, bedding, built in libraries, kitchens, bathrooms, staircases and more! We’ve designed chandeliers dripping with huge natural crystals and shells and come up with fabulous leather and faux treatments for the walls! We pride ourselves on not having a “signature style” because it means that each new project is exciting and spectacular because we get to make it all about you!

Contemporary, Traditional, Transitional and more! my satisfied clientele tells it all! Take advantage of my talents, you’ll be glad you did!
